WHAT'S WITH THE KILTS?

Most companies that claim to be creative and original get up in the morning and put their pants on one leg at a time just like everyone else. So while others talk the talk, ZFX walks the walk...comfortably in our kilts. This isn't just some gimmick. It's our company's culture. We work together unfettered and fearless in our approach. We like to think the kilt has something to do with this mindset.

DARE TO THINK DIFFERENTLY

Rest assured, we aren't just being different because we want to go against the grain. That usually causes splinters and they hurt, especially if you're wearing a kilt.

At ZFX we start each day off completely open and unrestrained, literally from the moment we get up and decide not to put on our pants. We are not bound by the limits of the norm. We have no fear of what's outside the box.

Every project begins at ground zero. Each flight is a new and unique opportunity unchained from the "but-that's-how-it's-always-been-done" mentality. Creativity and ingenuity start with dreaming. And dreams have no borders, no rules, no preconceived notions and no convention.

The real question that should be asked:

WHAT'S WITH THE PANTS?
